

Avalanche Has Moved To New Location

An Era Ends

With the publishing of this week's Avalanche an era has ended that covered 100 years.

This past week the Avalanche has been in the process of moving from the building that has housed the newspapers operation for 100 years at 224 Michigan Avenue, to their new quarters at 100 Michigan Avenue in the building that also serves J and R Florist.

With the advent of offset printing of which the newspaper has been printed since 1967, the need of much of the equipment used in letter-press printing became obsolete and has not been used for some time.

With the opportunity to purchase a modern building that could facilitate our present equipment we decided to make the change.

We know it will be strange for everyone, moving out of a building that had been serving the public for so long the change will not be easy. We hope it will not inconvenience anyone, and we will be happy to continue serving you in our new location.

Ambulance Fund Drive Underway

by Joe Schrader

The need to replace the county ambulance, beginning to show its age after seven years of service to county residents, was the topic of discussion at a special meeting of concerned Crawford County citizens last Friday morning. Guest for the session was Jacob Deegan, Regional Representative for U.S. Senator Donald W. Riegle, Jr.

Faced with the knowledge no county funding is available in the foreseeable future, the group also learned from Deegan that virtually no hope exists for help from state or federal sources either. "I've searched all the avenues I know of," he concluded, "but regret to advise there is little opportunity to obtain assistance quickly."

The existing county ambulance has been in service seven years now, answering all emergency calls in Crawford County. It's manned by a Volunteer Ambulance Corps of ten citizens, all of whom offer their services and time at no cost to county residents.

But the strain of being called out an average of 300 times annually over those seven years has taken its toll. The need for replacement has become even more obvious on recent occasions when ambulance crewmen have been forced to overcome mechanical difficulties with the vehicle in order to complete emergency runs. See Ambulance on Page 2

Christmas Parade Monday

by Joe Schrader

The Downtown Merchants' Christmas Committee is in the process of "tying up the loose ends" for next Monday's Annual Christmas parade which is scheduled in downtown Grayling about 7:00 p.m. As a prelude to the parade, tree lighting ceremonies will take place in front of the court house and store fronts will literally glitter with the spirit of the Holiday Season.

Parade co-ordinator Rita Smith expects some 30 units to participate in this year's event, which will be announced from a parade platform located in front of Ye Olde Realty Co.

The parade and downtown light-up represent the first event on the committee's agenda to make the Holiday Season a more delightful and meaningful occasion for area residents.

The Downtown Christmas Parade Clown will be on hand to have fun with the kids and 'Ol Saint Nick himself said he could take time out of his busy schedule to drop in for this special event. The Grayling High School Marching and Jazz Bands, along with a special choral ensemble will provide music necessary to usher in the Yuletide.

Another special feature will be dog sleds (weather permitting), mini-pickups, See Christmas on Page 2

County townships.

The ambulance selected is a modular, fully-equipped unit capable of transporting four patients. The vehicle is designed so that the chassis can be replaced separately with the ambulance compartment itself expected to last from ten to fifteen years.

Tony Doremire is chief of the ambulance corps, whose other members include Mike Hauxwell, Mahlon Riker, Jim Kraus, Patty Kucharek, Jim Gray, Dean Goss, John Wilcox, Raxanne Adams and Fred Reichelderfer, all highly-trained Emergency Medical Technicians. They are on call 24 hours per day. When the fund drive is successful, the existing ambulance would be utilized as a backup unit only, the same function the marine van now serves. A recent check disclosed that the ambulance is manned and on the road no more than 3-5 minutes after an emergency call is received.

The ambulance occasionally provides assistance to surrounding counties as well and the arrangement is reciprocal. The committee will be seeking contributions from civic and service organizations as well as the general public in its all-out community campaign.

alone. The Super Run is open to all individual snowmobilers who are willing to try themselves and their machines on the marathon run which will span over two days.

This is a state activity which will include members from the affiliated clubs of the Michigan Association of Recreational Snowmobilers (MARS) who will share the weekend with celebrities such as Charlie Sanders, former All-pro tight end of the Detroit Lions; Mickey Stanley and Bill Freehan, former Detroit Tiger stars. Jack Frost of Kalamazoo, and Cinnamon Davidson of Lansing will be the poster children involved.

In a recent letter to Chamber members, Bonkowski indicated that Grayling's obligation is to raise $3000 for the event. At a recent Board meeting, the decision was made to request contributions from the membership to assist in sponsoring the activity. The prime sponsor of the state program will be Kawasaki Snowmobile Division. Charlie Sanders is event Chairman.

Plans are being made to use the exciting trails from Grayling to Lovells, Lewiston, Red Oak, North Branch and Muskrat Lake. Refreshment and refueling stop arrangements are anticipated for Lovells, Lewiston and Red Oak.

The new event will be in addition to a repeat of the March of Dimes MARS Sno-A-Thon, held annually by the MOD organization.

The weekend activities will include all the events of the winter carnival, autograph signing sessions with the celebrities and awards banquet. Funds raised through this event and events throughout the state will help the nation's number one children's disease, birth defects. There are expectations the Super Run will be the largest snowmobile charity run in the United States.

Details are available from the Grayling Chamber of Commerce, and anyone interested in helping raise the required funds to sponsor the event can mail their contribution to the Chamber office.

According to the Sheriff's Dept. report, the Smith vehicle was traveling north on M-18 and apparently failed to heed a stop sign and crashed into Housover, who was traveling east on M-72. The Crawford County Fire Dept. "Jaws of Life" was used to remove Smith who was pinned in his vehicle and the Crawford County Ambulance crew and So. Branch Twp. firemen assisted at the scene.

Crawford County deputies were called out 120 times over the past two weeks in response to calls for assistance. Thirty-seven traffic complaints were answered, 12 malicious destruction of property, 11 breaking & entering were investigated and 11 attempts were made to locate lost hunters. Other complaints included suspected vehicles or persons, 10 larcenies, 10 car-deer accidents, a civil complaint, one assault complaint, one arrest for D.U.I. and a complaint for indecent exposure. One dog bite was recorded and the ambulance was called out on seven occasions. There was also one minor house fire.

Bits O'Talk

An addition to Michigan Avenue just in time for the holiday season are the addition of four blue spruces in planter boxes in the block between the post office and the Keyport Building. We hope it's just the beginning of better things to come on the "Main Street."

We forgot to mention that the Nickelodeon was dressed up for the holiday harvest with cornstalks decorating their posts.

Now if we could just have everyone take their election posters down, since it is over, that would also improve the town. They were brought to my attention.

A very proud grandmother is Mrs. Leona Goward, who says that her granddaughter, Caroline Lee Mills, is the Cover Girl for the December issue of True Confession magazine. Caroline is the daughter of Curtis and Connie Mills of Swartz Creek and two years ago was first runner-up in a teenage beauty pageant and this year was third runner-up in the same pageant. She was also chosen Miss Photogenic. She attends Austin Modeling School in Flint.

Mrs. Leona Goward has just returned from Fairbanks, Alaska, where she accompanied her daughter, Keitha Posten, and three children, Ronnie, Daniel, and Adam, to join her husband, Ron Posten. Leona spent a month in Alaska and several days with another daughter, Mrs. Nancy Kellogg in Columbiaville before returning to her home here.

Tom and Chris Dunkerley are proud to announce the arrival of a baby girl. Sarah Beth was born November 15, 1979 in Gaylord, weighing 7 lbs.

From Our Corner ...

Nostalgia is the name of the game this week from Our Corner...

We got moved a week sooner than we thought, and now as we try and come up with a column we are in a together type of atmosphere than which we had come to expect for so many years...

Gone now is the old creaky floor in the back room...the creaky wood floors in the front offices...the looking out the front window across at Dawson's, and the other stores in that block...the short walk to the Grayling State Bank and the Post Office, which we made quite frequently...the 33 years in a building we worked in every since we came to Grayling following World War II...

The Avalanche has been at this location since practically its beginning in 1878...following its inception by a group of men from Cadillac, it was soon that Dr. Oscar Palmer took over the reigns and kept the Avalanche going even against another paper that came into town but lasted only a couple years...it was Dr. Palmer that gave the Avalanche its firm footing for its survival...

O.P. Schumann became editor-publisher following Dr. Palmer and served in that capacity until he sold the newspaper to Robert W. and Eva Strong in the early 1940's.

Bob and Eva held the reigns until they sold to the present group in 1967. While they owned the paper they made many advancements to better the product they were selling. They had the back cement block portion of the building built so as to accommodate a 4-page newspaper press they purchased in order to grow with the demand. Another major machine they purchased was a new linotype that was the second one in Michigan following World War II.

In July of 1967 a 5-member group headed by Richard L. Milliman of Lansing to purchase the newspaper from the Strong's. The group included besides Mr. Milliman, Robert Dana MacVay, of Grand Blanc, Richard Jones of Bloomfield Hills, H. D. Madsen and LeRoy Papendick both of Grayling.

Shortly after the present group took over, plans were made to have the Avalanche printed in Mt. Pleasant an offset plant that also prints the daily paper, Morning Sun, and the Clare Sentinel at the present time.

It was through this decision we were able to print more pages in an issue in the same amount of time as the press there prints 16 pages at the same time.

Since we have taken over we have strived to bring you a better product and we are always seeking to give Grayling and Crawford County a newspaper that will be accepted.

To keep up with the present electronic age the Avalanche purchased a Compugraphic Four to replace two other Compugraphics. The new machine is more versatile and faster than the ones we had.

Like we said at the beginning...Nostalgia...it will take some time for us to get use to this modern atmosphere we have now.

One does not just walk away from something that has been there life for some 30 years...right at the present, Sunday afternoon, we are in a nice plush office, that we have to pinch ourself to see if it is real.

We had a hard time to re-program ourself in getting this turkey out Sunday instead of our usual Monday night deadline, due to our early publication this week because of Thanksgiving...

The following we have reprinted a number of years and still feel it answers the reasons of our celebration of Thanksgiving.

Thanksgiving — '79

"Rest and be thankful." How far modern man has strayed from that wise old Scottish counsel! Too often we hurry about our daily affairs, complaining of traffic, the state of the Union, food prices and the like — never bothering to count our blessings. This Thanksgiving Day, November 22, would be an excellent time to reflect upon the true meaning of life in America and, in so doing, come to a real appreciation of our good fortune.

Thanksgiving is more than a unique American celebration to be observed with parades, roast turkey and speeches. It honors the beginnings of the U.S. and our rich legacy of freedom, won by the blood and sacrifices of the first American settlers and others who came before us. How can anyone breathe the sweet air of freedom and not dedicate themselves to the democratic ideals which make life worth living and upon which this nation was founded? That each of us should be alive and living in the greatest country on Earth is cause enough to give thanks every day of the year. We should never be too busy to "Rest and be thankful."

Nostalgia will be with us for sometime...

The slight opposition to the bond issue, that came up for special election last Monday, was quite a surprise. It proved that the people, when they fully understand the matter, were glad to support the issue. By our votes we have wiped out our greatest community drawback — impure water. Now, when the new system is in operation, the patrons will be served with pure, healthful water, fit for all domestic uses. It means that this town is going to grow and the vision of Grayling shrinking to the size of the once famous Pere Cheney, or some other deserted community, is a thing of the past. The new pumping plant will be placed in the new city park, across from the Alfred Hanson service station, where there is ample room and where it will be centrally located. A stand pipe will be used for storage when the use of water might be excessive.

This place will no doubt eventually be beautified and should be a most attractive spot, as it is conspicuously located on highway US-27. Plans for the new system have already been adopted by the village council and also accepted by the state P.W.A. Commission and have been forwarded to Washington for final approval.

Jews and Arabs Still Teach Contrast of Law and Grace Galatians 4:21-31

Paul now uses the birth of two lines of nations, the Jews and the Arabs, to teach by allegory the abiding contrast between law and grace even unto this day.

Paul addresses the Galatians who still desire to become legalists under Old Testament law. Verse 21, He reminds them of Abraham and his two lines of descent; Ishmael born to Hagar, Sarah's Egyptian slave, and Isaac born to his wife Sarah according to faith in God's promise. Ishmael, the father of the Arab nations, was born by the works of the flesh. Isaac, the father of Jacob or Israel was born by a miracle according to the promise of God. Verses 22, 23. (Read Genesis chapters 16 and 21 for details.)

As Paul unfolds his allegory, he reminds us that Hagar represents Mt. Sinai in Arabia where the law was given to Moses. Sarah represents the heavenly Jerusalem of grace. All of us are either relying upon mother Hagar and are in bondage to the law, or else we are relying upon mother Sarah and have been born free from above. Abraham being the father of both lines reminds us also that both law and grace came from God. Verses 24-26. More people today are trusting mother Hagar or the law, than are trusting mother Sarah and grace. Verse 27.

As born-again Christians we are children of the promise as was Isaac. "Now we, brethren, as Isaac was, are the children of promise." Verse 28. We as children of the promise are persecuted by those religions which trust in works of the flesh just as the Arabs still persecute the Jews today. "But as then he that was born after the flesh persecuted him that was born after the Spirit even so it is now." Verse 29.

Just as God has promised the Jews the nation of Israel forever, even so, we as children of God's promise shall have eternal life. Just as God has rejected future Arab possession of the land of Israel during His 1000 year reign on earth, even so, all religions depending upon God's laws and their works of the flesh, shall be denied entrance into Heaven for eternity. Verses 30,31.

Listen to the Bible: "Nevertheless what saith the scripture? Cast out the bondwoman and her son: for the son of the bondwoman shall not be heir with the son of the free-woman. So then, brethren, we are not children of the bondwoman, but of the free." Verses 30,31.

God is the author of both law and grace. By law He shows us our sin and condemns us. By grace He gives us forgiveness of sin and saves us. Do you stand condemned by God's laws or saved by God's grace?? What are you trusting? (adv.)

Dear Editor,
As I have been reading the Grayling paper I have noticed alot of the taxpayers of Grayling are more or less upset. Because it seems everybody is trying to get a piece of the action by suing the Crawford County Taxpayers.

Well the only thing I have to say is I have been sentenced to 1 year in the county jail & have been here for 3 months. Since I have been here all I have been hearing is that how the county is going broke.

Well in the time I have been here I have had two job offers to go to work in the Grayling area. I have been turned down on both of these occasions. It seems to me for a town that is going broke they would be more than happy to get that $3.75 a day room & board for the next year. That adds up to a total of approximately $1000.00 which is better than a kick in the you know what.

Plus my wife & two small children are now on A.D.C. That is not a hell of alot to get along on. What I am trying to say is that I could be working while I am in here and be paying the county money plus, still be spending up to 16 hour's a day in the county jail. But instead the county continues to go broke an I'm setting back hoping they don't run out of funds to feed the inmate's.

Respectfully yours,
Dennis Wakeley

Questions and Answers About Preserving Venison

Q. How do you freeze venison?

A. Be sure to use wraps or containers made especially for freezing. They will prevent passage of moisture vapor and air and will maintain the original goodness of the meat. Wrap for freezing as soon as cuts are made—prompt freezing after aging preserves the meat at its very best. Before freezing, trim away heavy fat (the source of strong flavor) and other non-edible portions so the meat will be pan ready when the package is opened. Package in quantities your family will eat in one meal. When packaging steaks and chops, place two layers of waxed paper between individual pieces of meat so that the frozen pieces can be separated for easier thawing and cooking. Label all packages with the cut of meat and the date of packaging. Freeze quickly at 0 degrees, F or colder by spreading the packages out on the freezer shelves or placing them close to the walls of the freezer.

Q. How long will venison keep in the freezer?

A. Recommended storage times are: Ground meat—2 or 3 months; roasts—8 to 12 months; and steaks—8 to 12 months. Shorter freezer times yield better quality meat. All frozen venison should be used within a year.

Q. Is it all right to can venison?

A. Yes. Venison may be successfully home canned with a pressure canner. For instructions, contact the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service office in your county and ask for a copy of USDA publication "Home Canning of Meat and Poultry." Follow the directions carefully.

Q. Can venison be cured at home?

A. Yes, Venison, like other meats, can be cured at home. If a commercial curing preparation is used, follow the manufacturer's directions. If making your own brine, use a sweet-pickle solution. To make brine: heat 4 1/2 gallons of water. Add 8 pounds salt, two pounds sugar and 2 ounces saltpeter. Stir until the ingredients dissolve. Skim the surface and cool the brine of 40 degrees F before using. Chill the venison to a temperature between 34 and forty degrees F, and then trim the meat into pieces all as near the same size as possible. The best cut of venison to use is the upper portion of the round, which contains no fat and can be separated fairly easily into pieces. Keep the meat and brine solution at temperatures between thirty-four and forty degrees F throughout the curing process. Higher temperatures will result in spoilage; lower temperatures will retard the curing process. Fit the pieces of meat into a suitable container (ceramic, crockery or other salt-resistant material). For the top layer, place the meat so the out-side (skinned side) is up. Cover meat with chilled brine. If necessary, weight the meat with rocks to keep it submerged. Cover the container and place in a location which will maintain the suggested cool temperatures (refrigerator, root cellar, etc.). Curing time for the thicker, larger pieces is about 3 1/2 days per pound of meat. Check the containers at least once a week to see that the brine does not become rosy or spoiled. If signs of spoilage appear (like cloudy brine or off odor), remove the meat and place in fresh brine. The curing process takes about 28 days. The meat must be kept in brine until it's used.

Q. How do you smoke venison?

A. After curing, soak the meat for two hours in cold water. Scrub well with a stiff brush. This will produce a more uniform color and milder flavor. Hang the chunks in the smokehouse so that they do not touch. Let them drip for 14 hours before starting the fire. Use non-resinous wood to produce a light fog or smoke no hotter than 100 degrees F. This is called a cold smoke. Keep the smoke areas ventilated at first to let the moisture escape. Smoke for three to five days for a good flavor and rich color. Refrigerate meat after smoking. An improvised smokehouse may be made from an old refrigerator, a large barrel or packing case, or a small shed that can be covered with tar paper to keep the smoke in and on the meat. Liquid Smoke is a commercial substitute for smoking. It gives a smoke flavor but does not provide the spoilage protection that is added by smoking. Follow the detailed directions that come with the product.

Q. Can jerky be made from venison?

A. Yes. Muscles from the round are usually used because they are easily prepared and contain little fat. Cut 5 pounds of venison into strips 1/4 to 1/2 inch thick, 1 to 1 1/2 inches wide and 4 to 12 inches long. Cut with the grain of the meat and remove all fat possible. Lay out in a single layer on a smooth clean surface. If smoke flavor is desired, brush each strip of meat with 1/2 teaspoon Liquid Smoke in 2 tablespoons water. Sprinkle strips liberally with salt on both sides. Add pepper to taste and garlic powder or garlic salt if desired. Place strips, layer on layer, in a large wooden bowl or crock and place a plate with a weight on top. Let stand for 6 to 12 hours. Remove racks from oven and stretch meat strips across the racks. The edges of the meat strips may touch but should not overlap. Leave enough space free on the racks for air to circulate in the oven. Set the temperature at 140 degrees F and let strips dry for about 11 hours. Check early in the drying process for excessive drip. This drip can cessive drip. This drip can be caught on aluminum foil on a rack placed near the bottom of the oven. Lower the temperature of the oven until it feels warm but does not cook the meat. Keeping the oven door ajar will facilitate drying. If jerky is dried to allow moisture content (it should be chewy and leathery), it may be stored at room temperature in air tight containers. Store moist jerky in the freezer for no longer than one month. The saltiness of the product encourages rancidity.

Bids Taken On Road Projects

Bids were taken in Lansing on November 14th for a total of 36 highway and maintenance projects throughout the State of Michigan.

On the agenda for Crawford and Oscoda counties is the resurfacing, with the addition of bituminous shoulders, of 13 miles on M-72 from west of M-18 east to Mishler Road. Cost of the project is approximately $750,000, and is scheduled for August of next year.

Magazine Gives Tips on Preparing Venison

Lansing—The November-December issue of "Michigan Natural Resources Magazine," provides deer hunters with some tips on how to handle and cook venison for best results at the table.

While many people, especially those tasting venison for the first time, are doubtful of the taste, claiming it's "too dry" or "too gamey," the simple truth is that properly prepared venison can be as delicious as any serving of beef or pork.

Many hunters have different opinions on the proper way to field dress a deer. But everyone agrees there's one important principle that should always be followed: cleanliness. Other than the fact that a dressed-out deer is much easier to drag out of the woods, your two objectives in "gutting" it are to remove the blood and the internal organs as soon as possible because these are the major cause of bacterial action which spoil the meat. If you can make sure the animal is clean and stays that way you've done half the job necessary to prevent spoilage.

Wrap the deer in plastic or canvas to transport it home. If the temperature is quite cold, put the deer in your trunk. Otherwise tie it onto the car roof, or place it sideways on the top of the trunk. Do not carry it near the engine where heat may cause the meat to spoil.

When cooking venison, you need to compensate for its leanness by use of moist heat methods, or by adding bacon strips or beef suet to the recipe, or by marinating liberally.

A marinade sauce used by Walt and Sybil Houghton of Interlochen, who teach a wild game cookery class, contains the following: ¼ cup wine vinegar, 1 T. soy sauce, 1 tsp. onion salt, ¼ tsp. pepper, 1 T. catsup, 1/8 tsp. garlic powder (or one crushed garlic clove), 2 T. salad oil or olive oil.

Soak venison round steak in marinade for two hours in the refrigerator, turning every 20 minutes.

It may then be grilled on a Weber grill, or broiled, depending on the thickness of the steak. The meat will still be a little red in the center when it's done. Baste with marinade for the last 10 minutes.

A favorite method of cooking venison is in a stew. Jane Herbert of Ann Arbor has the following recipe for Deer Hunter's Stew. She says it is delicious served with bread and butter.

—2 pounds cubed venison stew meat, 1 package stew seasoning mix, 3/4 cups water, about a dozen small red-skinned potatoes, 3 stalks celery (chopped), 4 carrots (chopped), 6 small whole onions.

Roll meat in flour, salt and pepper, then brown in shortening. Add seasoning mix, one teaspoon salt, and water. Cover and simmer for about 45 minutes, depending on cut of venison used. Add vegetables and cook another half hour.

Another favorite way of cooking venison is in a crock-pot. Simply brown stew meat in a skillet, then turn into the crock pot with onions and water. For flavoring add dried onion soup mix and mushroom soup mix. Simmer for several hours, adding vegetables later so they don't overcook. Serve when meat is easily separated with a fork.

Congress Should Say No to the Special Interests

By DAVID COHEN

Congress refuses to say NO to the special interests who seek inflationary favors from government. Hundreds of wasteful subsidies, tax preferences, and anti-competitive regulations are costing American consumers billions of dollars. These costs directly fuel inflation.

Congress treats inflation as most of us treat bad weather; complain and accept what comes. Something CAN be done about inflation if those special interests are challenged.

According to William Simon, President Ford's Secretary of the Treasury, "Many businessmen . . . want import quotas, subsidies, tariffs, handouts. They want to enjoy the profits when everything is just fine, but they want to nationalize their losses (through the U.S. Treasury) when economic storm clouds appear. They want protection from the very competition that made our system so dynamic." Simon's comment applies to lots of special interests.

Congress allows its obsession with the most parochial concerns to prevent it from doing what's needed to halt inflation. It resists anti-inflation efforts opposed by powerful economic interest groups. It approves measures which cause the price of consumer goods and services to rise. It favors special interest programs that the public pays for directly through higher taxes. There are more examples than anybody can count. Here are a few.

Containing hospital costs is necessary to brake inflationary health costs. The Department of Health, Education, and Welfare estimated that health cost containment legislation considered by Congress last year could have saved consumers about $27 billion through 1982. Yet $1.79 million in 1976 congressional campaign contributions from the American Medical Association (AMA), the principal opponent of hospital cost containment legislation, helped bury the bill last year without a House vote. So far this year the Congress has

Congress also has a bad habit of supporting many subsidy programs which cost consumers dearly. Fewer than 1 per cent of U.S. farmers grow sugar cane or sugar beets yet the sugar industry is one of the most expensively subsidized products of the U.S. economy. The current sugar price support system costs consumers $1.3 billion a year in direct costs alone and pressures are mounting for Congress to increase the subsidy even higher. Someone has to foot the bill—it's the American taxpayer.

Sometimes Congress may not vote a direct subsidy to a special interest but instead grant a tax break. Either way citizens pay. For example, Congress has given corporations a $1.5 billion tax preference allowing them to defer taxes indefinitely on a large portion of the income they earn on exports. The Treasury Department has said that this tax incentive is not increasing exports as it is supposed to do. Yet that tax preference and hundreds of others remain because Congress never examines whether they are meeting their original purpose.

Congress escalates inflation on food, health, energy and housing. To end these atrocious results Congress must examine all parts of the federal budget to see the big picture. Instead of ignoring long term costs, Congress should know what those costs are by budgeting beyond one year. To reduce wasteful activity Congress should sunset programs, regulations, and tax preferences. Only by terminating what's wasteful and unnecessary will the necessary new initiatives begin.

Wishing won't stop inflation from growing. But a Congress that stands up to the special interests will.

Social Security Gives $60 Million to Prisoners
As much as $60 million a year is being paid to prisoners in this country through the already-struggling Social Security Trust Fund's Disability Insurance program (SSDI).

The SSDI program is rightfully intended to go to severely handicapped or disabled members of the social security system. It has been estimated that as many as 30,000 prisoners are collecting from the Social Security System each year under a loophole in the Social Security Act.

We, as taxpayers, already foot the cost of keeping and feeding federal prisoners. They live on federal tax dollars, then turn around and collect from the Social Security System—a system to which many people have contributed their wages in expectation of drawing insurance and pension benefits later in life.

I have co-sponsored a bill to close this loophole and prevent prisoners from drawing disability benefits. More than 30 Members of Congress have expressed their support for this measure and the support continues to grow as more are made aware of this inequity in the Social Security Act.

American Viewpoints

There are many forms of success, many forms of triumph. But there is no other success that in any shape or way approaches that which is open to most of the many men and women who have the right ideals.

Less Travel Expected Thanksgiving

While motorists are expected to travel four percent fewer miles in the state this Thanksgiving than last year, Automobile Club of Michigan says this holiday has the potential of being the most dangerous on roads this year.

"We are concerned by the recent cutback in State Police patrols due to budget shortages which means their road patrols will be cut at least one-third during the upcoming holiday," said Auto Club Safety and Traffic Engineering Manager Arthur C. Gibson.

Thanksgiving is traditionally the most dangerous period of the year. For the past three years, an average 23 persons have died over the three summer holidays compared with 27 for the Thanksgiving period.

"All of the most dangerous factors are at play during this holiday," said Gibson. "Those factors are short trips near home, more hours of darkness, heavy use of alcohol and poor driving conditions due to ice and snow."

Motorists in Michigan are expected to travel 350 million miles during the Thanksgiving holiday which begins at 6 p.m., Wednesday, November 21st and ends at midnight Sunday, November 25th.

Auto Club bases its mileage figure on a five percent drop in touring requests from its members, a five percent decline in motor vehicle travel reported by the Michigan Department of Transportation and a three percent decline in tourism according to the Michigan Travel Bureau.

Last Thanksgiving Day holiday, 29 persons were killed in 25 accidents. All but one of the fatal mishaps occurred in darkness, 76 percent happened within 25 miles of the driver's home and 60 percent of the at-fault drivers were known or suspected to have been drinking.

"Only one of the fatal accident victims was wearing safety belts," explained Gibson. "In the non-fatal accidents, only 18 percent were using safety belts."

Heavy traffic is expected on Thanksgiving Day, November 22nd, in Detroit for the annual J.L. Hudson Company's parade and in Pontiac for the Detroit Lions football game.

The Thanksgiving Day parade begins at 9:15 a.m. at the corner of Woodward and Putnam. More than 500,000 spectators are expected to line the route to watch the 2½-hour parade.

A less than capacity crowd of 62,000 is expected to attend the 12:30 p.m. Lions-Chicago Bears game at the Silverdome. Motorists not attending the contest should avoid stadium-area surface streets and the I-75 freeway near Pontiac one hour before and after the game, which should end around 3:30 p.m.

Some heavy pockets of traffic also are expected on the state's major arteries with vehicles carrying families bound for holiday destinations and deer hunters heading for the woods during the final weekend of the firearm season.

Major airlines report many flights booked for the weekends before and after Thanksgiving, especially to warm weather destinations.

Twenty-five of Michigan's 57 ski lodges plan to open for skiers over the Thanksgiving holiday weekend if weather permits. They are:

Southeast Michigan: Mt. Gramplan, near Oxford; Mt. Holly, near Holly, and Mt. Brighton, near Brighton.

West Michigan: Nub's Nob and Boyne Highlands, near Harbor Springs; Boyne Mt., near Boyne Falls; Sugar Loaf, Timberlee and Traverse City

Holiday, near Traverse City; Crystal Mt., near Thompsonville; Lost Pines near Harrietta; Caberfae, near Cadillac; Cannonburg, near Campionsburg; Timber Ridge, near Gobles; Swiss Valley, near Gobles; Royal Valley, near Buchanan, and Middleville, near Middleville.

East Michigan: Tyrolean Hills, near Gaylord, and Mio Mt., near Mio.

Upper Peninsula: Porcupine Mt., near Ontonagon; Indianhead Mt., near Wakefield; Big Powderhorn and Blackjack, near Bessemer; Ski Brule, near Iron River, and Pine Mt., near Iron Mountain.

When Can You Deduct Charitable Contributions?

This is the time of year when a lot of charity drives are going on for many worthwhile purposes. Technically, the contributions you make to these charities are tax deductible. But there's a hitch.

The amount you contribute to charities can only be subtracted from your taxable income if you itemize your return.

Over the years the standard deduction has been increased several times, thereby making the task of itemizing deductions less attractive. Thus, while approximately 50 percent of taxpayers itemized their deductions in 1970, only about 25 percent do so now.

As a result, charitable organizations say they are losing $1 billion annually. And, people who decide not to itemize are penalized, in effect.

I have co-sponsored legislation which would allow all taxpayers, whether they itemize or not, to deduct charitable contributions from their taxable incomes. I feel this bill would benefit charities and taxpayers alike.

Turkey, known as the Great American Bird, has become a symbol of thanks for a bountiful harvest, as well as the traditional dish for Christmas and other celebrations.

Good things growing in Michigan include about 1.2 million turkeys, more than 30 million pounds, marketed in 1978, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture. This season's estimates are slightly less in our state, however, national production is expected to be the largest ever.

About 40 percent of Michigan's turkey production goes into processed foods. Facilities to readily freeze turkeys make the birds available year round, while improved breeding stocks produce tender, broad-breasted turkeys with large meaty thighs and drumsticks.

Roast turkey with all the trimmings is a feast, and leftovers are great for making sandwiches, turkey pie with homemade biscuits baked on top, or chop suey. Additional ideas to add to your recipe file for leftovers are Turkey Divan, Hash and Trazzini.

For Turkey Divan, place slices of roast turkey breast in a shallow baking dish. Top with cooked broccoli. Cover with your favorite sharp cheese sauce. Sprinkle with bread crumbs and grated cheese. Bake for 15 minutes at 375 degrees.

Turkey Hash is prepared by sauteing one-half cup each chopped onion and green pepper in five tablespoons of garlic seasoned butter. Add three cups diced, cooked turkey and one cup stuffing. Allow the mixture to cook over medium heat until thoroughly warmed. Pour two-thirds cup heavy cream over the mixture and cook until blended and piping hot. Top with one-half cut grated cheese and place under broiler to melt.

For Turkey Trazzini, combine two tablespoons melted butter, one tablespoon flour, one can cream of mushroom soup and one cup milk. Cook, stirring constantly, until thick. Mix two cups diced, cooked turkey, one four-ounce can mushrooms and one-half cup peas into sauce. Put one-half pound cooked spaghetti in the bottom of a baking dish. Pour turkey mixture over this and sprinkle with cheese. Bake at 400 degrees for 20 minutes.

He has been active in the Commission on Aging, the Crawford County Housing Commission, Cancer Society, Kirtland Community College Foundation Board, and Chamber of Commerce, holding many offices in all of them.

Alef responded to the honor by giving amusing anecdotes of his first years in Grayling with former Kiwanis members. His wife, Gloria, received a corsage of roses and was introduced also as the daughter of another Flowers to the Living recipient, Charles Moore.

The Flowers to the Living Award, according to Clough, was initiated by the late Forney Clement of Ann Arbor, District Secretary for many years, who visited most of the clubs, and always presented a flower to some member, with the philosophy that people should receive them while they could still smell them.

Among the guests were William Joseph, whose father, the late A. J. Joseph, had received the honor, making the only father and son to receive it; Robert Bovee, Joseph Stripe, Jay Doty, Leon Rochette, and Arthur Clough, Sr., all past honorees.

Members of the Alef family, present as a surprise to him, were, son, John and wife, Cheryl; son Dan, of Petoskey; daughters, Jennifer and Mary; his mother, Mrs. Alef and sister Joyce Bauhof and niece Lisa, of Grosse Pointe.

Sgt. Russell A. Scholtens
Safety & Traffic Division
7th District Headquarters
Traverse City, MI 49684

Dear Sir:

On November 13th, 1979 again we had a serious accident at the intersection of M-72 and M-18. One person was critically injured and the other two seriously injured. This past summer we had three fatalities at that intersection.

I am requesting that your office give immediate attention to that intersection and my suggested remedy to the problem is to install a caution light at that intersection.

Also, I am requesting again that you check the intersection of Old US27 and M93 for the installation of a caution light. This intersection receives a large amount of traffic due to the high school being located just north of the intersection.

I feel that both of these intersections require caution lights to promote better highway safety in this county. Your immediate attention regarding this matter would be greatly appreciated.

Yours truly,
L. Curtis Haas, Sheriff

Re: Traffic controls junctions of M-18 at M-72 and M-93 at Old US-27, Letter of November 14, 1979

Dear Sheriff Haas:

Please be advised that the matter of traffic controls at state trunkline intersections is the entire responsibility of the Michigan Department of Transportation. All such inquiries should be forwarded to Mr. Fred Eggan, District Traffic & Safety Engineer of that department in Alpena.

In regard to your request that this office give immediate attention to the intersections. Be advised that such attention was given by way of advising Mr. Eggan's office of your inquiry and that you were so advised in previous communication.

A copy of your letter of November 14 is being forwarded to Mr. Eggan. Inquiries requesting controls on state trunklines made directly to the proper authority will receive quicker handling than if they pass through a number of offices.

We will, of course, give any assistance requested by the highway authority in these and other matters.

Sincerely,
Sgt. Russell A. Scholtens

Wilcox - Hoesli Vows Spoken

Teresa Wilcox and Gerald Hoesli were united in marriage at 3:15, Saturday afternoon, October 20, 1979 at Mt. Hope Lutheran Church with Rev. Paul Weber officiating. Music was provided by Carol Schrader.

Parents of the couple are John and Bev Wilcox and Clarence and Laura Hoesli. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride was attired in an ivory empire waist gown with high collar and long sheer sleeves, all accented with lace. She wore a finger tip veil of ivory lace and net that had been made by the groom's aunt, Sarah Cook of Higgins Lake. The bouquet was made of beautiful carnations, handmade by the bride's aunt, Edna Babbitt of Maple Forest.

The Maid of Honor, Julie Andrews, the bride's sister of St. Johns and the bridesmaids, Cindy Wilcox of North Carolina and Janel Wilcox of Sault Ste. Marie, both sister-in-laws of the bride and Lisa Hanson of Flint, the bride's cousin, were attired in long, wine colored gowns with pleated skirts, long sleeves and low necklines. They carried bouquets of pink or yellow hand crocheted carnations, also made by the bride's aunt. Nicole Wilcox, three year old niece of the bride, wore an ivory gown, similar to the bride's, that had been made by her grandmother, Lorna LaMotte. She carried a basket of homemade flowers.

The Best Man was the bride's brother, Arthur Jene Wilcox of Sault Ste. Marie. Bridegroom's attendants were Clark Wilcox, bride's brother of North Carolina, Gene Andrews, bride's brother-in-law of St. Johns, and Steve Hanson, bride's cousin of Flint. The Ring Bearer was the bride's two year old son, Aaron McKane Wilcox.

The bride's mother was attired in red, white and blue double knit, two piece outfit with a long skirt. Her corsage was made of handmade carnations.

The groom's mother wore an aqua polyester long skirt with matching top and a handmade carnation corsage.

A reception was held at the American Legion Hall. Out of town guests were from Birch Run, Montrose, Flint, St. Johns, North Carolina, Sault Ste. Marie, Lansing, Saginaw, Higgins Lake, Mottersville, Alpena and Waters.

The couple honeymooned in the Upper Peninsula.

They are now making their home in Grayling Mobile Estates.

The bride is a graduate of Grayling High School. The groom attended both Birch Run and Grayling High Schools.

Sweet Adelines Activities

Mid-Mitten Chapter met at the Methodist Church in Houghton Lake on Wednesday, November 15th. We were happy to have a number of guests attending. We started rehearsing all our old Christmas music, getting ready for the holiday season. Our first Christmas singout has been set for December 11th.

Most of our girls have returned from their weekend at International Convention in St. Louis, Missouri, and all report a cold (temperature) but fun time, with lots of walking time put in.

Our delegate, Gail Gardner, brought back some interesting stats on Sweet Adelines. Since May we have grown by 1280 new members, have 705 chapters including 29 new chapters. We also have expanded to two more countries, with a new chapter in Holland and one in Tokyo, Japan. Wouldn't it be fantastic to go to a convention in Japan!!!

The winning chorus was "Ramapo Valley Chapter" (Region 15), Ramsey, New Jersey. They are directed by Renee Craig who most of us remember when she lived in Michigan and directed the SOC Chapter, (South Oakland County). Both medleys they sang were written by George M. Cohan and arranged by Renee Craig. The 1979 Queens of Harmony Quartet is the "Hallmarks".

Century 21 Real Estate Joins Trans World

IRVINE, CALIF. — "This gives the Century 21 Real Estate family great financial security," said Board Chairman and Chief Executive Arthur E. Bartlett in assessing the merger of the company he founded in 1971 with Trans World Corporation.

With the approval of the shareholders of both companies on October 18, Century 21 Real Estate Corporation will merge into a wholly owned subsidiary of Trans World.

Century 21 is the largest real estate sales organization in North America with nearly 75,000 people and nearly 7,500 offices, including Century 21 River Country of 5688 M-72 West, Grayling.

Trans World is the parent company of Trans World Airlines, Hilton International Hotels and Canteen Corporation. TWC has assets of $2.5 billion.

"This merger means we will have the resources to provide additional services to consumers into the 80's," said Carol Thompson, owner of Century 21 River Country.

Mrs. Thompson said those consumer services are planned to include Home Mortgage, Home Warranty, Insurance and other real estate related programs.

"We plan to become a one-stop shopping center for real estate service," added Mrs. Thompson.

Chairman Bartlett said Century 21 Real Estate Corporation would continue with its current management team and consumer service oriented programs.

"We are extremely pleased to join hands with such an outstanding, progressive company like Trans World," said Bartlett. "We will have access to their expertise which will result in better programs for our brokers and the public."

Lansing Report

Rep. Ralph Ostling
Welfare Reform
Bill Introduced

A welfare reform bill designed to save Michigan taxpayers over $600,000 a year was introduced in the Michigan House of Representatives last week by my Republican colleague, State Representative Gary Randall of Elwell. This measure would reduce from six months to one month the amount of time welfare recipients could receive public assistance from the state after they move out of Michigan. The present six month limit is aimed at giving individuals who move out of the state an opportunity to apply for and begin receiving assistance from another state.

I believe that this process can be accomplished in one month. As a result, we would save a substantial amount of the money we now pay to welfare recipients who move out of the state.

The legislation will help to eliminate welfare money going to individuals who are using the funds to supplement their incomes.

The bill has already received the support of the Department of Social Services Director, Dr. John Dempsey, who called it "an appropriate and sensible approach to tightening the welfare system in the state."

I am hopeful that this legislation will help to eliminate reports of individuals vacationing in southern states during the winter months while continuing to receive public assistance from the state. This type of welfare abuse is blatant and this bill would be a step toward putting an end to it.

Another hole in the present law allows welfare recipients who join the military to collect assistance from the state and have the checks transferred to his or her military residence for an indefinite period of time.

The chairman of the committee sure to study the measure—Social Services and Youth—said he supports the Randall-sponsored legislation.

According to a Department of Social Services estimate, the bill would save taxpayers about $500,000 a year.

OES News

Five members of the OES were in attendance at the Grand Chapter Michigan held in Kalamazoo on October 2-4, at Wing Stadium. Those attending were Lillian Houghton and Bob Houghton, Clive and Velda Marshall, and Elsie Jansen.

The latter part of October, Elsie, and her sister, Francis Peters of Saginaw, and Velda were in Toronto for four days attending the General Grand Chapter which is worldwide and held every three years. Outstanding entertainment there featured a 15-year-old pianist and also an organist.

On the November 2, the Marshalls, the Jansens, and Irene Peterson attended the Michigan Worthy Grand Matron reception at Long's in Lansing.

Elsie Jansen has received a Grand Chapter appointment from the Milbourne Jones Grand Family of Michigan and is serving as Sunshine Chairman of the six-member committee. chairman she has been attending many of the OES meetings throughout northern Michigan this past month.

Be a coupon clipper. You'll be surprised at how much you can reduce your total food bill.

Many groceries run newspaper ads bearing "cents off" coupons on certain items. Check the ads to see if this discount is available on anything you need.

Coupons you may find in newspapers, magazines or receive through the mails, frequently bear expiration dates. Organize a coupon file and keep it current.

Trouble with Jimmy Carter? He's just too short

RICHARD MILLIMAN

"The Trouble with Jimmy Carter is ... Just fill in the space with your favorite reason."

That's a game any number can play, especially these days with a red-hot Democratic political dogfight already underway. Everyone, it seems, has his own answer to the seemingly universal quandary of: "The trouble with Jimmy Carter is ..."

I ran across an answer the other day that most of us probably haven't considered before. The trouble with Jimmy Carter is ... he's too short.

The height theory came from a seasoned political observer, Cornelia Wallace, the former wife of the governor of Alabama and former presidential hopeful himself.

Lack of Height, according to Cornelia, is one of the main reasons her former husband, George Wallace, never made the White House grade ... that is, in addition to his infirmities after the assassination attempt.

"It's very hard for a short man to be President," observed Ms. Wallace, who's now in the process of writing a novel.

"I Believe Truman was the last little fella to do it. In this day and age of TV, a little fella like Howard Baker of Tennessee just can't make it."

"That's the trouble with Jimmy Carter," she continued. "He needs another couple of inches to project the image of leadership. If he'd been 6 feet tall, it might've been a completely different story."

Cornelia Wallace may have something there. One of my own pet theories is that Mr. Carter's usually soft demeanor, his sing-song speaking style, his facial expressions centered on what appears often to be a forced smile all blend together to shear away the surface forcefulness usually associated with leadership. Maybe his lack of physical stature adds to his physical image problem.

Napoleon, of course, didn't have to put up with television, so his historic lack of stature didn't harm him. But Mr. Carter, obviously, is no Napoleon.

Added Height would have helped George Wallace, too, his former wife believes.

"If George hadn't been crippled by that assassin's bullet in Maryland, and he was an inch or two taller, he might easily have been the man to lead this country in 1980," Cornelia said.

An interesting theory, all right. It makes as much sense as most political theories I've heard lately.

And with apologies to all the old joke books (including but not limited to the Brighton Rotary Club Bulletin), Cornelia Wallace obviously embraces that old but true saying: It's better to have loved a short man than never to have loved a-tall.

The Almanack hasn't put forth many fascinating statistics lately, so this final segment this week serves a double purpose—it corrects the statistics lag, and it promotes my favorite industry, the newspaper business.

Since 1776, the press in America has grown from 29 weekly newspapers to 7,486 weekly newspapers with a circulation of more than 35 million ... plus 639 Sunday papers with more than 51 million circulation ... plus nearly 1,800 daily newspapers, which reach 60.7 million customers.

That's a gigantic growth of publishing in this country, and has certainly been instrumental in establishing the high educational level of the new and developing nation which the United States was, and, in many ways, still is.

Tom Mills was chosen Teacher of the Month for the month of November. He graduated from Michigan State University and teaches psychology, sociology, and biology. He has been teaching at Grayling High School for 9 years and we hope to have him teaching here at Grayling High School for many more years to come.

The Contemporary Family Life class held two instructional weddings on November 6 and November 9 at the Michelson Memorial United Methodist Church. The students were advised by Mrs. Prause and Miss Valuet, who teach Contemporary Family Life this year. The wedding of Barbara "Bubba" Hoffman and Nathan Gibbons was held November 6, with Julie Parkinson as Maid of Honor and Matt Mahaney as Best Man. The wedding of Diane Hatley and Joe Lee was held November 9, with Tina Hamilton as Maid of Honor and Carl McLeod as Best Man. The students followed the procedure for a real wedding and took part in a learning experience.

The Sophomore Class is sponsoring an all-school dance, November 30, 1979. The theme for this dance is "bandanas" and anyone wearing a bandana will be admitted for a reduced price. The dance will last from 7:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m., and the sophomores may sell McDonald's orange drink to bring in some extra money for their class.

Notice To Rural Postal Customers

The cooperation of rural and suburban postal customers in helping to keep private roads passable and approaches to mail boxes clear during the coming winter months was requested today by Postmaster Jim Baker.

"Postal customers are responsible for keeping approaches to their mail boxes clear of snow and other obstructions that would make mail delivery difficult or impossible," Postmaster Baker said. "People should be aware that failure to clear paths to mail boxes promptly after heavy snows may temporarily prevent the carriers from making deliveries. Customers will be contacted if they have an obstructed mail box."

There may also be a need to ask postal customers to relocate their boxes on a new line of travel if excessive and extended detours are necessary, the postmaster said.

"Highway officials are responsible for keeping public roads passable and in good repair," Postmaster Baker said. "But in areas where mail service is provided over roads not maintained by road authorities, the owner of the road is responsible."

Rural and star route carriers will make every reasonable effort to serve the greatest number of customers during severe weather, the postmaster said. "But service on foot when roads are impassable is not required. Also, when state highway authorities or local police consider road travel hazardous, postal service may be curtailed until the inclement weather abates," he said.

The postmaster urged anyone with a question on winter weather road conditions and mail service to contact the Grayling post office.

BROWNIE NEWS FROM TROOP 2009—We would like to thank Mr. Dawson for letting us put our Halloween poster in his window. We hope everyone got uptown to see it.

On November 5th, we had our Brownie investiture, and all our girls were pinned and are officially Brownies now. We'd like to thank the Avalanche for the paper they donated to us to cover our tables for our investiture. And also, all of our parents for coming and making it a most successful evening.

As a troop project we collected canned goods from our parents and are giving them to Camp AuSable to fill baskets for Thanksgiving, for the needy.

Happy Thanksgiving!

Crawford Co. Avalanche To The Editor
Dear Whitey:

This is just a note of recognition of a gentleman who has been a great influence on this community. He is positive about Grayling and always has a smile, a joke, and a good word for people he meets each day.

I have never seen this man gloomy in the 10 years I've lived in Grayling.

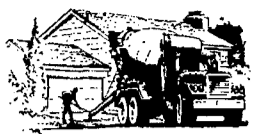

To BURT the BARBER! Our hats are off to you for more than one reason. Go with God's blessing, Burt, and thanks for the memories.

New Instant Lottery Game

November 1979 is a special month. It marks the seventh birthday of the Michigan Lottery, and to help celebrate the occasion, a new instant game, "Triple Seven", will go on sale November 20th. The game features seven different ways to win, a Grand Drawing with seven prizes, and a Grand Prize of $70,000 a year for 7 years.

The game consists of 36 million tickets printed for distribution, with over $14 million in cash prizes. Overall, the odds of purchasing a winning ticket are approximately one winner in four (1:3.9).

The "Triple Seven" ticket has nine playing spots, and each spot reveals a number from one (1) through nine (9). If three sevens appear in any row or column, horizontally or vertically, the customer wins the amount shown for that row or column. Three sevens in a diagonal line do not win a prize. In addition, anyone who wins $70 and files a claim for the prize money within 10 days after the end of the game will qualify for the Grand Drawing elimination. At this drawing, seven finalists will be drawn, at random, to proceed to the actual Grand Drawing.

Lottery agents will redeem "Free Tickets", $2 and $7 winners. Tickets winning $70 and $700 may be claimed at a Lottery Claim Center. Players who win $7,000 must file their claim at a Lottery Regional Office, or Lottery Central in Lansing. These offices are located as follows: Grayling, County Building; Lansing, 6545 Mercantile Way; Marquette, 105 E. Washington; Oak Park, 13391 W. Nine Mile; Portage (Kalamazoo), 5323 Portage Road; and Saginaw, 310 Johnson (Downtown Saginaw Mall).

Instant winners of $70 or more will be paid by check once their Lottery claim form has been validated and approved for payment. The prize check is mailed to the address provided by the claimant. All Grand Prizes are paid in full the night of the Grand Drawing, with the exception of the Grand Prize ($490,000) which will be paid in seven equal installments. The date, time and location of the Elimination Drawing and the Grand Drawing will be announced within one month after the end of the game.

CROSS COUNTRY SKI HEADQUARTERS—On the east side of Higgins Lake you will find Cross Country Ski Headquarters, a brand new log cabin ski touring center. They maintain over 10 miles of forested trails for public use at no charge. Besides selling and renting ski equipment, they offer free beginner instruction to all customers. An extensive map library includes most of Northern Michigan's trail maps and maps of Roscommon County's three excellent DNR trails. A roaring fireplace and friendly atmosphere make Cross Country Ski Headquarters a fun place to visit.

We Need You

The Volunteer Aide Program in the Crawford AuSable School District needs you. Volunteering is your opportunity to contribute a valuable service to your community schools. If you are no longer content to be an observer and want to be actively involved - here is your chance. Volunteers are "special" people. They find time in their busy schedule to share some of their day being involved. More "special" people are needed in the Grayling Elementary Reading Room to help make the program a success again this year.

The basic requirements necessary are: Enjoy working with children. Have an interest in education and the community. Feel a commitment to the goals of the Volunteer Aide Program. Want to help. Be dependable.

CARD OF THANKS
I would like to thank my children, their families, and all my friends for the lovely 75th birthday party they gave for me at Auman's House of Catering on Sunday, November 11th.

Also, thanks to Ruby and Spike McNeven for their call from Arizona.

And a special thanks to Gene and Jeannie Potter.

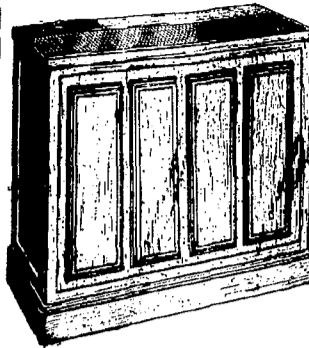

This party was also given for my brother, Russell Beck of Cadillac, who was celebrating his 80th birthday.

An Ordinance to secure the public peace, health, safety, welfare and convenience of the residents and property owners of the Township of Lovells, Crawford County, Michigan, a municipal corporation, the established Sites 1 and 2 located in said Township, by the regulation of disposal grounds for waste, rubbish, junk, and debris and the operation of same within said Township; to provide penalties for the violation thereof; and to repeal all ordinances in conflict therewith.
THE TOWNSHIP OF LOVELLS ORDAINS:

Section 1: From and after the effective date of this Ordinance it shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to dispose of any waste, rubbish, junk and debris in any area of the Township of Lovells, unless the same is a licensed site under the provisions of the State of Section 2: The Township of Lovells may maintain refuse disposal sites which shall be under the supervision of the Township Supervisor.

Section 3: No person shall enter upon the enclosed grounds of the sites except persons duly authorized by the Township.

Section 5: The Township Board shall have the right to establish rules and regulations for use of the disposal sites. Said rules shall include, but not be limited to, user fees and hours of operation.

Section 6: PENALTY: Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this ordinance, or the rules and regulations as provided in Section 5, as posted in said sites, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding the sum of One Hundred and no/100ths ($100.00) Dollars, or by imprisonment in the County Jail not exceeding ninety days; or both, such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the Court.

IN ADDITION THERETO a reward of Fifty and no/100ths

The Well-Rounded Life

There are times we want to paint, and times we want to study. Who says a fellow can't wear his work clothes while enriching his mind? And relax with his shoes off, too!

Indeed all of us need to be cultivating the well-rounded life. We need to make provision in our busy weeks for work and play and learning and worship.

Much of the pressure under which we live may not be so much the result of life's unreasonable demands upon us as the result of our inadequate preparation for meeting life's demands.

Time spent with God . . . learning of His purposes,
His power and His love . . . is one of the essentials for the well-rounded life. And while custom has long prompted folks to express reverence by donning their best clothes, in the church today the important thing is not what you wear — but that you're there.
